RHODE ISLAND

How does a family obtain maximum living at a minimum cost? The answer to that problem is pictured here in this classically simple Cape Cod design. Two bedrooms, a dressing room and a bath upstairs are matched by two bedrooms and a bath downstairs. But there is still plenty of room for a big living room extending to a dining area in the rear of the home. An "L" shaped kitchen completes the picture. And storage problems are solved in the full basement.

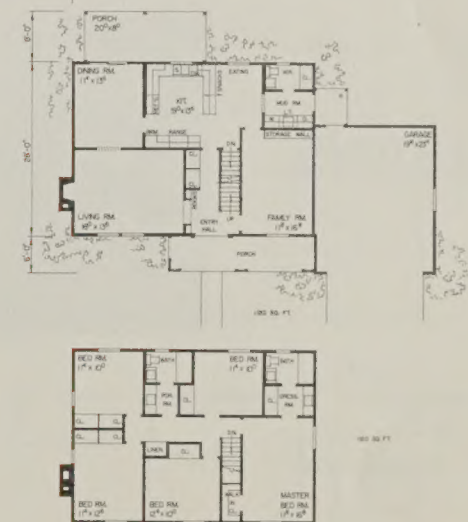

BAYBERRY RIDGE

Clean contemporary styling blends with traditional Cape Cod design in this home of many futures. When you out-grow the spacious living room, two bedrooms with bath, and full-size kitchen and dining area, expand to two large bedrooms on the second floor. The optional carport can be enclosed as a family room or formal dining room.

THE BRIMFIELD

From the quaint charm of its covered entry to the practical values of its five bedrooms and three baths, this home demonstrates what can be done to capture maximum use and beauty in a two story home. Notice the careful use of space on the second floor which includes big closets in each room, a generous size master bedroom and dressing rooms with each bath. The first floor is also completely utilized to provide a living room, separate dining room, family room, kitchen and work areas.

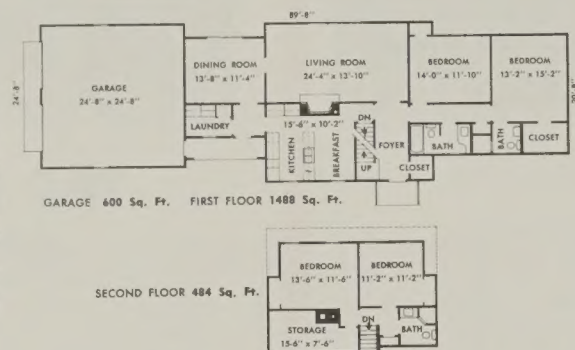

GREENBRIAR HOMES COMBINE MANY FEATURES TO GIVE YOU THE AREA'S MOST WANTED HOMES

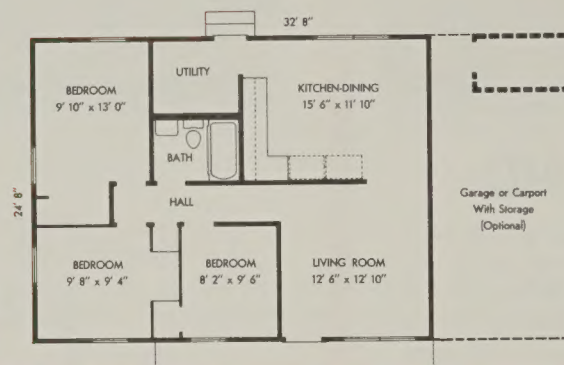

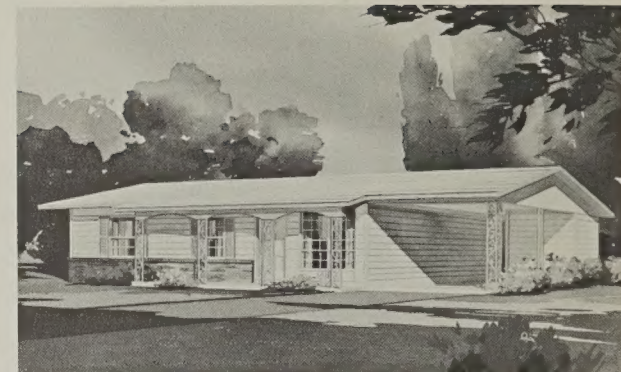

GLOUCESTER

The authentic Cape Cod styling of the Gloucester complements its interior design — an attractive blend of today's living standards with a colonial atmosphere. The entrance foyer, with open wood-cased stairwell and guest closet, leads to the large, beamed-ceiling living room, with its traditional New England fireplace and mantel. The designer's skill in creating a comfortable, relaxed home is thoroughly demonstrated in the many well-planned features of the Gloucester.

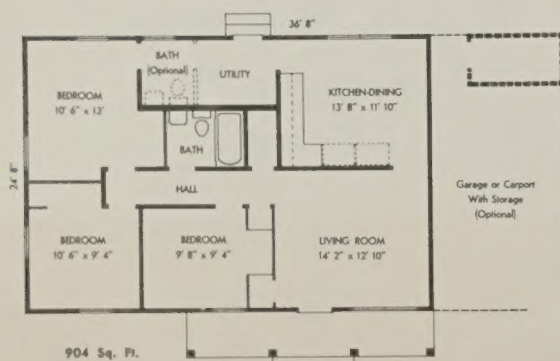

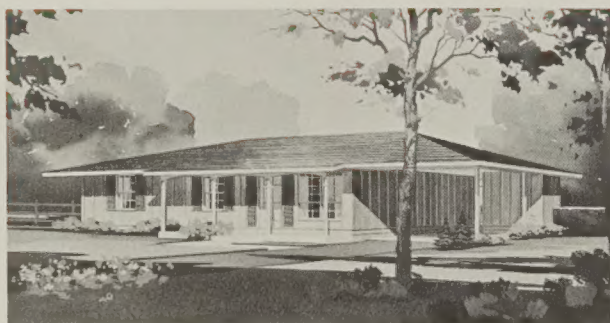

HAMPTON

Gracefully patterned iron columns, brick wainscot and pleasantly shaded porch gives promise of the Hampton's comfortable interior. The work center of the kitchen is designed for carefree meal preparation; allows a generous family dining area with an expansive six-foot window. Careful planning provides a handy utility room with service entrance, and closet space is plentiful.

ORLEANS

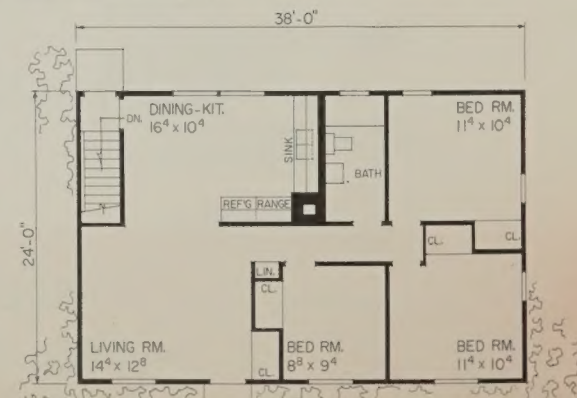

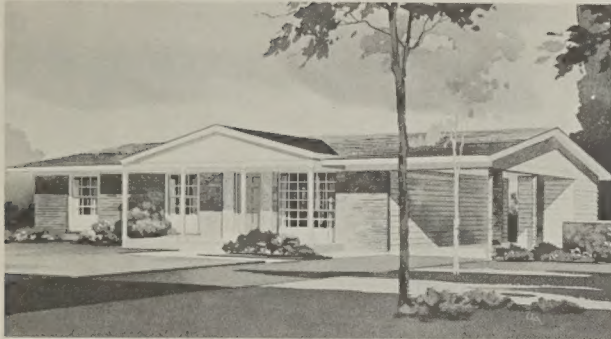

Louvered, full-length shutters, a generous porch and wide overhang all around create a warmly welcoming exterior. Within, every room is designed for flexible furniture arrangement and smooth traffic pattern. The country kitchen, with its well planned work space, double window and large dining area, will be a favorite family gathering point. A central hall separates sleeping and living areas, and space is provided for an optional powder room.

BEL HAVEN

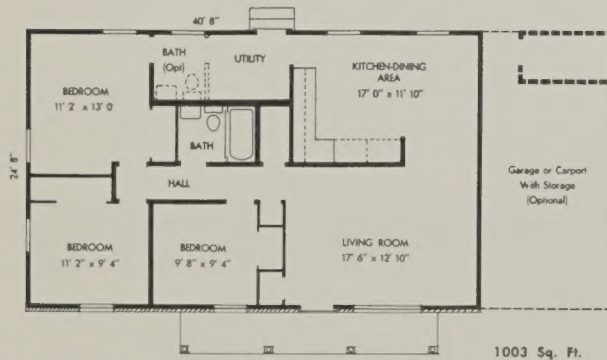

Top to bottom, front to rear, you'll be proud to own this three bedroom ranch. The light and airy dining-kitchen area and large family-size bath combine for your convenience and comfort. Doubling the floor space of this roomy ranch is a full basement that has plenty of space for storage, recreation room and an extra bath. Although this ranch is almost forty feet long it can still be placed attractively on an average city lot.

HANCOCK

Classic porch, louvered shutters and richness of brick stamp the Hancock as truly distinguished. Note how the three bedrooms are secluded from the activity centers of the house. A large, convenient utility room with outside entrance adjoins the cheery, thoughtfully designed kitchen-dining area. If you wish, an optional half-bath, accessible to both master bedroom and utility room may be added later, as can a carport with additional outside storage closet.

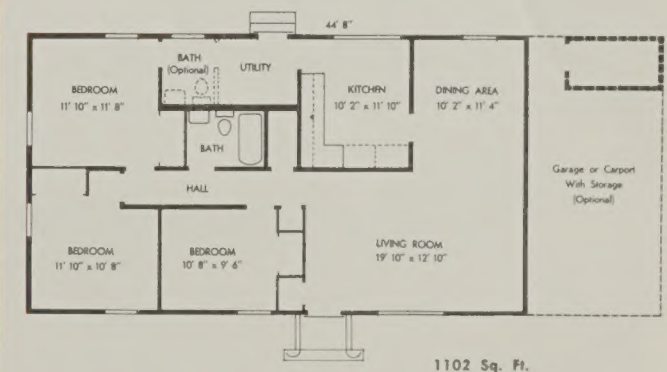

MONTEREY

Are you looking for that roomy feeling in a ranch? Notice the connecting living room and dining-kitchen areas in this three bedroom ranch that gives you that extra feeling of space. The unique window treatment and vertical accent siding also make this home something special.

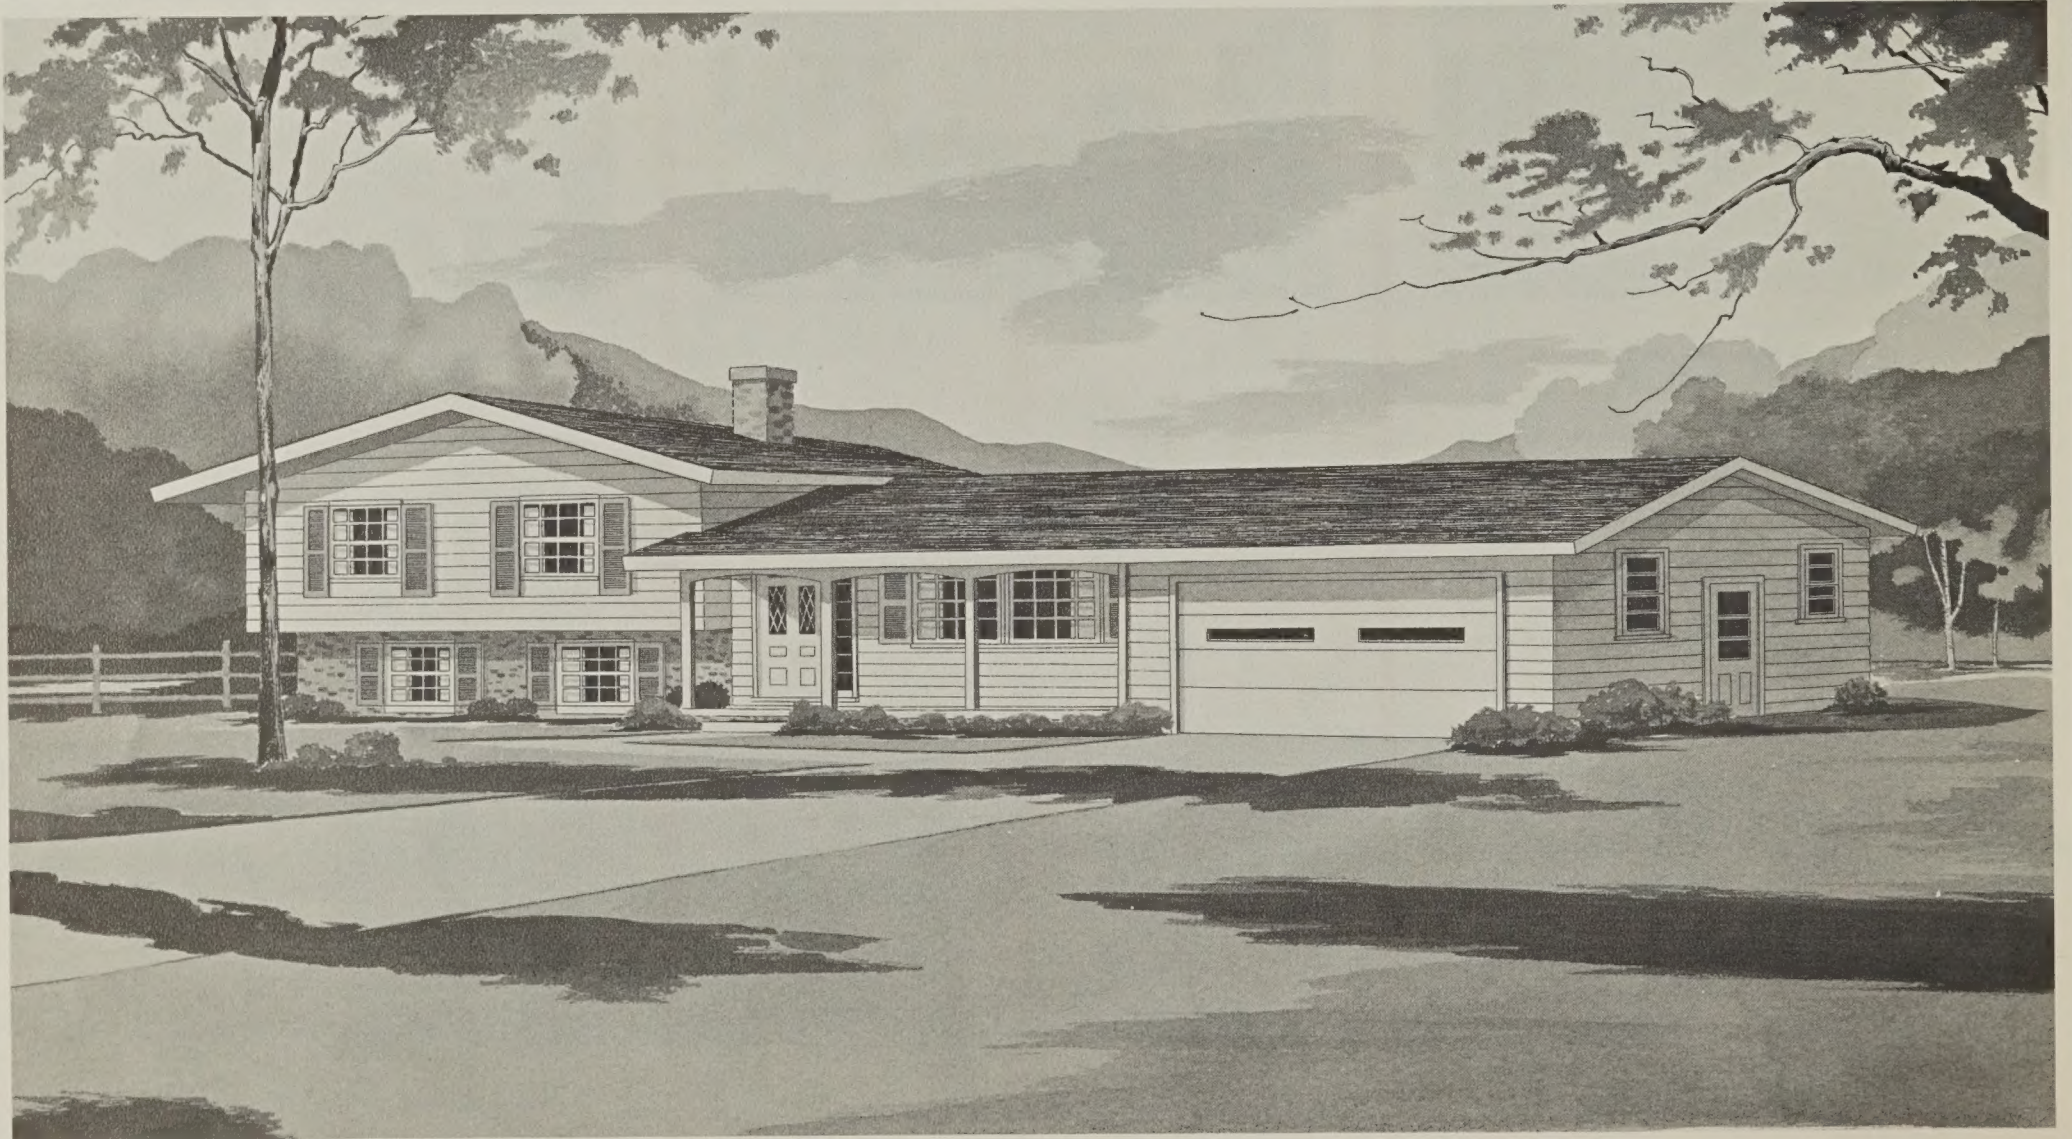

BROOKFIELD

Exquisite proportion and balance enhances the approach to this gracious home. Full-length louvered shutters and generous windows add to its feeling of spaciousness. Within, an expansive living room leads to a large, separate dining area. The kitchen offers a work-saving L-shaped work area and a wide window to overlook the children at play. The closet adjacent to the bath can accommodate a heating unit or stairs to an optional basement.

GLENVIEW

The distinctively styled Chinese gable roof with its wide overhang attractively protects from sun and weather. Within, the well-proportioned living room joins the dining area in a spacious and charming arrangement. The dining room leads through sliding glass doors to the porch. The kitchen, with ample breakfast space, has direct access to the utility-laundry area and rear yard. This beautifully designed home has three large bedrooms and a hall bath with five foot vanette.

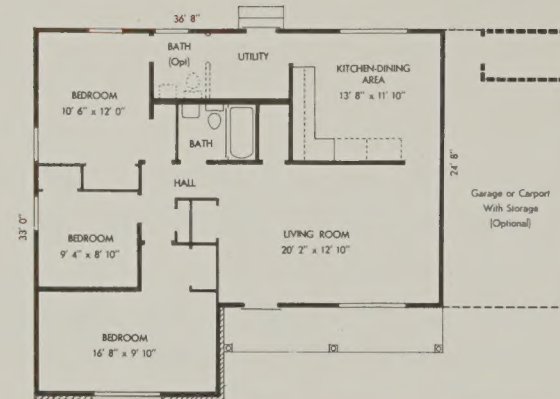

HOUSE 1281 Sq. Ft.

GARAGE 255 Sq. Ft.

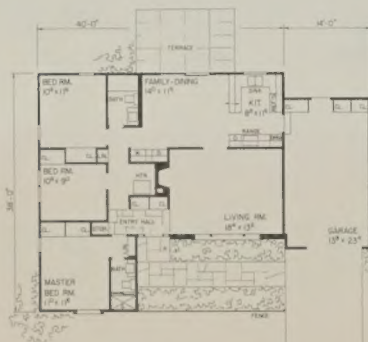

SHERWOOD

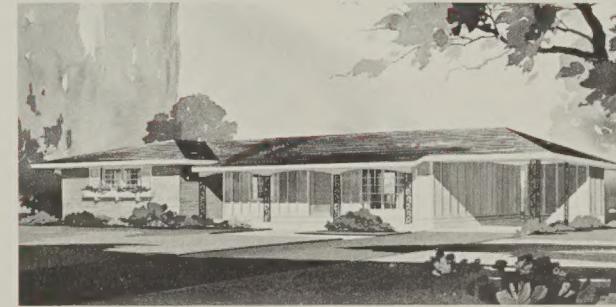

The warmth of brick, the sheltering overhang of porch, louvered shutters and expansive windows give the Sherwood a special appeal. An unusually large living room still allows for a comfortably dimensioned kitchen-dining area and utility room, and an optional powder room. Note how the L-shaped central hall assures privacy for each of the bedrooms, and the luxurious size of the front bedroom. Additional outside storage space is available if you choose to add a carport.

WINSTON

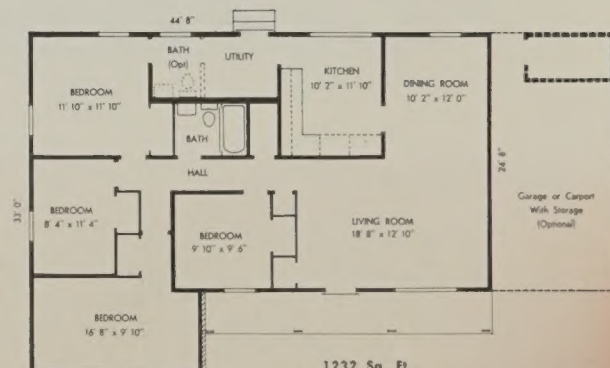

This attractive variation of the standard "L" shaped ranch incorporates separate sleeping and family areas. There are two full baths, one off the master bedroom and one adjacent to the other bedrooms and family room. The family-dining room is separated from the kitchen by a serving bar. The expansive living room is lighted by a large picture window overlooking an enclosed terrace type entry. Almost every inch of unused space is utilized for storage.

CLAYTON

Patterned iron columns, wide overhang, large picture window, and the elegance of brick, blend traditional grace with up-to-the-minute interior design. The large family will revel in the Clayton's spacious living room, separate dining room and efficiently planned kitchen with adjacent utility room and service entrance. A central hall sets off the four bedrooms and bath from activity areas. There's an optional half-bath, carport and outside storage area also available.

WHEN YOU CHOOSE A GREENBRIAR HOME, YOU ARE ASSURED OF QUALITY

HILLWOOD

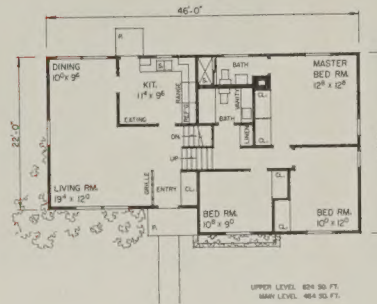

Although traditional in appearance, this three bedroom bi-level home incorporates such modern innovations as a quiet study, large lower level family room, deluxe kitchen, two step-saving baths, spacious living room-dining area and an abundance of closet space. A lower level garage completes this dream home.

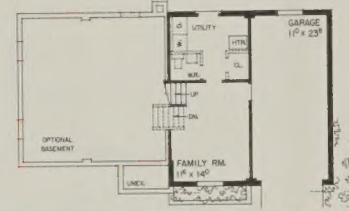

680 SQ. FT. UPPER LEVEL

LAKE FOREST

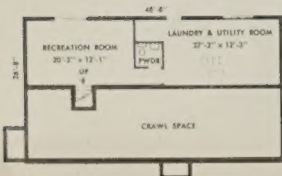

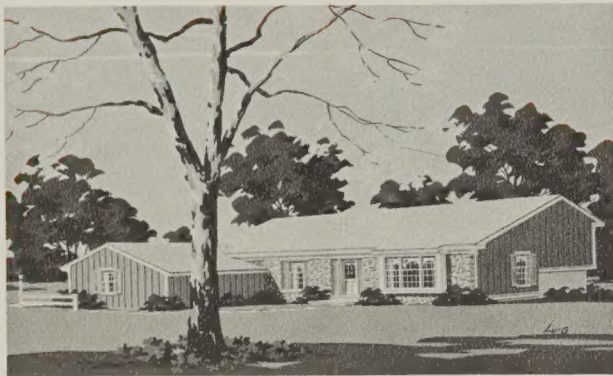

UPPER LEVEL 824 50.7
MAIN LEVEL 484 33.7

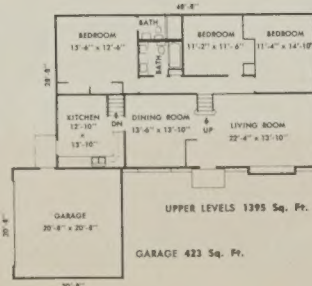

It's a split level and the newest in house designs. From the main living area a short flight of steps leads up to three bedrooms and two baths or down to a family room, utility room and large adjoining garage. An outstanding new idea in split level design.

FAIRFIELD

LOWER LEVEL 372 Sq. Ft.

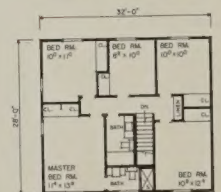

UPPER LEVELS 1395 Sq. Ft.

GARAGE 423 Sq. Ft.

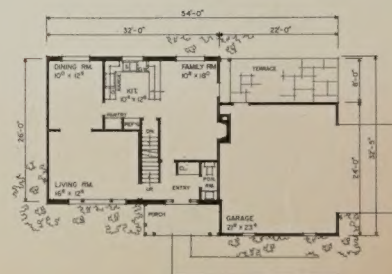

Colonial charm of stone and frame creates a warm approach to this spacious split-level home. The gracious entrance, looking upon the stair and wrought-iron rail of the bedroom level, opens into a beautifully proportioned living room on one side and to a separate dining room on the other. With the sleeping areas upstairs, the lower level provides for a generous recreation room with sliding glass door to the rear. A two-car garage completes this remarkably adaptable home.

SALEM

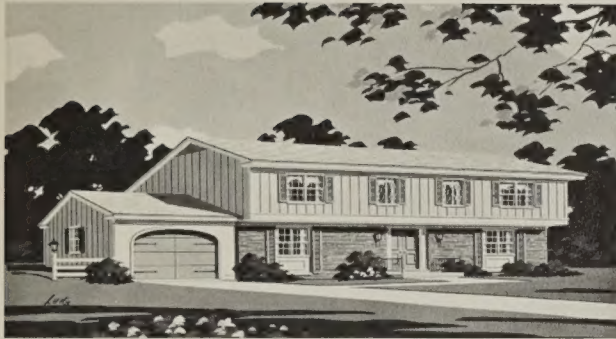

404 JG F5

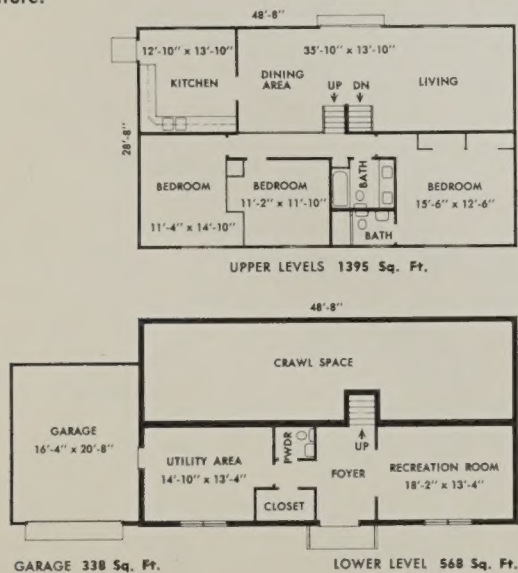

From the quaint charm of its covered entry to the practical values of its five bedrooms and three baths, this home demonstrates what can be done to capture maximum use and beauty in a two story home.

REGARDLESS OF YOUR HOME NEEDS OR BUDGET, GREENBRIAR OFFERS A HOME SUITED FOR YOU AND YOUR FAMILY

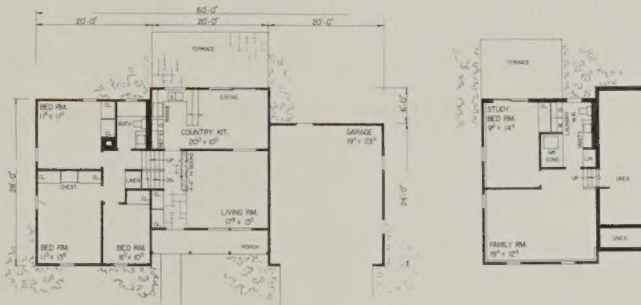

LEXINGTON

Full louvered shutters, diamond-paned windows and brick offer a hospitable welcome to this skillfully designed three-level home. The large entrance foyer has a walk-in closet, powder room and utility area on one side, and opens to a recreation room on the other. Six steps lead up to the huge living-dining area where sliding glass doors open to the rear. Above, three twin size bedrooms border an open balcony-hall — an unusually appealing feature.

LA SALLE

Mother, dad and the kids will all like the roomy, relaxed atmosphere of the big country kitchen in this split level design. But this is just one of the many outstanding features of this multi-level home. A separate wing with three big bedrooms and bath is just a few steps up from the large living room. A family room and fourth bedroom opening on to a rear terrace is reached going down from the main level. On all levels there's room for every family activity.

CONCORD

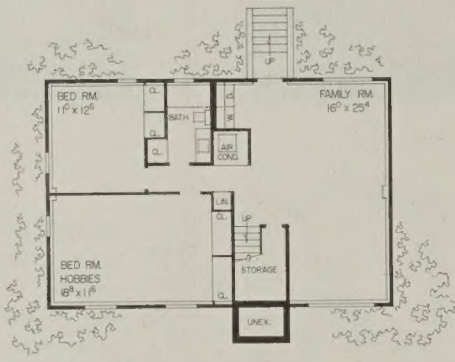

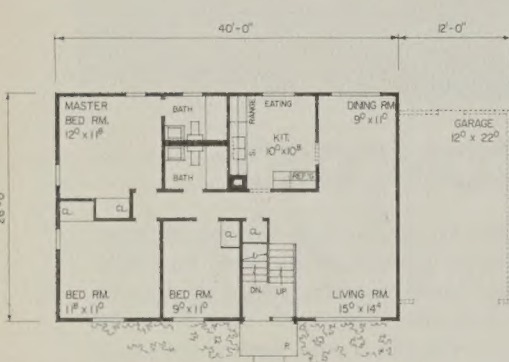

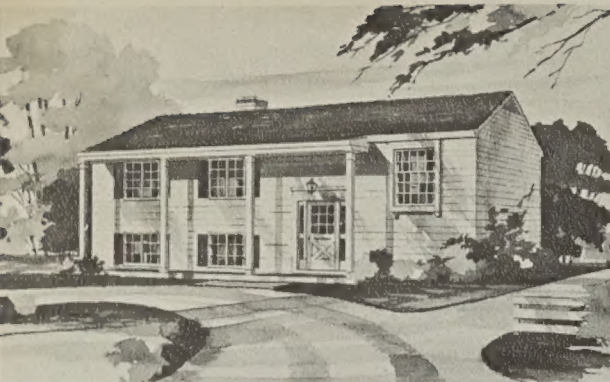

Skillfully placed into the four levels of this stunning home are four bedrooms, three baths and big areas for family activities or formal entertaining. The completely terraced rear of the home is reached by patio doors from the lower level family room, rear garage door or main level dining area. A large game and hobby area add over 500 sq. ft. of usable space below ground level. A massive living room fireplace and open planning on the main level give the feeling of space and luxury.

UNICOM CONSTRUCTION DEVELOPED AFTER YEARS OF ENGINEERING STUDY, INSURES THE HIGHEST QUALITY IN YOUR GREENBRIAR HOME

SARATOGA

A touch of the old South greets you from this pillared bi-level home. It acts as a magnificent setting for hundreds of square feet of gracious yet practical living space. The unique design provides three, four or five bedrooms to suit your family's needs. Three bathrooms and step-saving kitchen are added values. An attractive eye catching mid-level entry gives easy access to both upper and lower floors and strikes a unique style note to this beautiful home.
